"I think that this is the most enthusiastic team ever to hit the dusty diamonds of softball!"
—Melissa Harding

1-2-3, O-U-T, UH! The softball team learned that winning wasn't everything. Although never hitting a winning streak, the girls had fun and kept their spirits high.

Bus rides were a treat, considering the two hour long back ache and midget size seats. Never failing, Melissa Harding and Amber Terranova seemed to strike up some extraordinary conversation that got most players interested, sometimes even the coaches.

When it came to school rivalry, the teams continued to cream the Astoria Fishermen. These games were a time to try out new positions as JV/Varsity junior Irma Merrow commented. "The girls played their unknown position with maturity."

Agreeing, that this year was a year of reform and preparation, freshman Kelly Honan, replied, "We will be a better team next year, even though this was a fun year!"

Kay Terranova, Barbara Ayres, and Sue Finley were new to the softball program and delivered change in the form of skills and spirit, despite the record. Head coach Terranova's faith in the team was apparent. "I'll challenge their defense to any team," explained coach Terranova. This resulted in the players, displaying increased confidence in their play.

On a few Saturdays during the season, the girls devoted their time to work with the future softball players of the Seaside High School softball program. Like Tide detergent, a new and improved team will be coming your way, without the bleach.—Camille Beers

THREE UP, THREE DOWN! Bev House, Melissa Harding, Dixie Cook, Jill Bates, and Camille Beers, join together to pump each other up before facing the opponents bats.

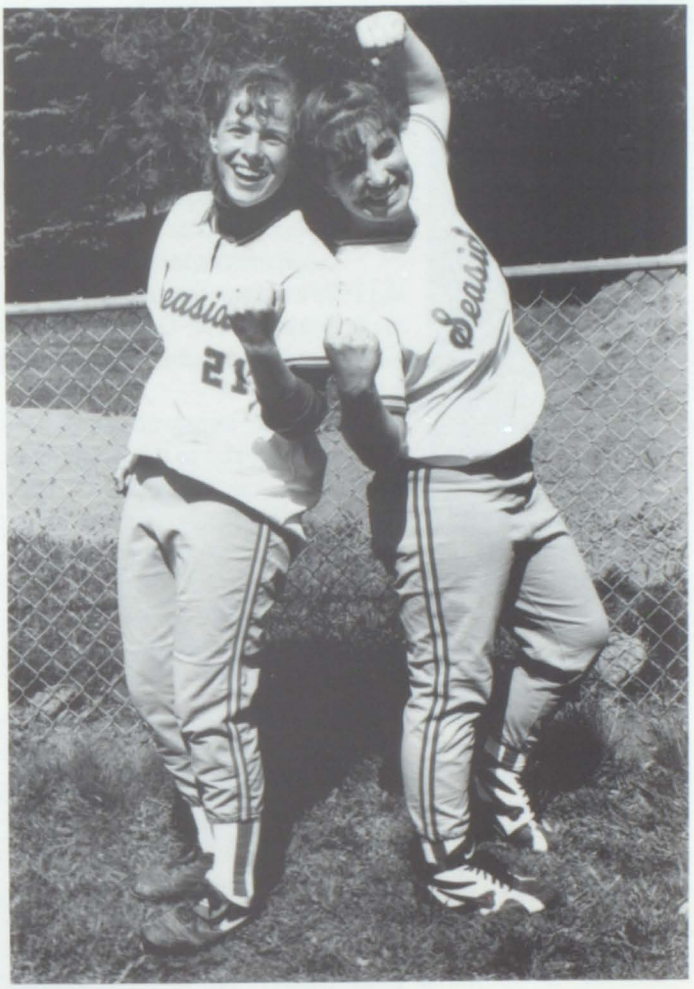
JUST TAG HER. Junior Julie Erickson defeats a Clatskanie player by tagging her out at home, causing them to retire to the bench.

Gosh, like that other short stop on the other team is like a total jock! While taking a time out Senior Melissa Harding and sophomore Jill Bates reminisce about the opponents skill and players.



SHE-RA PRINCESS OF POWER! Seniors Dixie Cook and Melissa Harding strut their stuff, before the completion of their high school softball career.

This season was a remarkable improvement from last years three win performance. The varsity Gulls managed to capture second in league and just missed a chance to attend the 3A playoffs.

The 1995 varsity squad was mainly dominated by seniors but consisted of some juniors and a few sophomores. Pitching and their batting strength were key factors to this years team. Also their depth made it easy to give players breaks as well.

Another thing to remember about the 1995 team was their series sweep of rival Astoria. The Gulls were also never swept by any team in the Cowapa League.

But the improvement did not come as a surprise to this year's team. Junior Lance Lyons explained, "I knew we would be better because of our experience and the pitching was phenomenal."

1995. A great year in baseball for Seaside Seagulls Varsity program.

The 1995 J.V. season was successful as well. The team finished the season with a winning record. Although missing half of their games due to cancellation, the young gulls had a pretty impressive year.

The team was dominated by sophomores in 95. Only four freshmen participated in the baseball program this year.

DISTRICTS 3rd

" I hoped I wouldn't mess up; not that I would."
—Kelli Truax

"It was a good experience. I was glad I got the chance to go to state."
—Shannon Dion

The girls track team has proved to be stronger this year, and it showed.

"[We had an] absolutely fantastic season. Great improvement from last year—we were fifth at districts and then we came back this year and we're third. We only lost one dual meet the whole season. All the teams knew we were a threat to them! The girls team had a lot of spirit, enthusiasm, and were hard working," commented coach Gene Gilbertson.

Hard working, yes, and everyone knew it. This year there were many outstanding athletes. Some athletes went to state and two school records were broken. The triple jump record was broken by Michelle Hawken with a leap of 40ft even. The other record was broken by the 4x100 team with a time of 49.98.

That time and their ability not to lose made the girls team undefeated in our league, and only challenge was Stayton. They knew that they had to beat Staton when they went to state. They did and came back with the First place for the 4x100 relay.

Even though track is a sport that is a lot of hard work they do have their fun. "The funniest thing was after the districts prelims when we were playing keep-away with my spiderman," recalled Hawken.

The girls track went to many track meets that weren't league meets. The team became closer as the meets went by. They would tell jokes, play games, and draw pictures of each other.

Overall the team has grown stronger and they are not about to quit.

—Shellie Dennis

Crossing the Border. Rachael Morris once again shows she has the strength to come in first place in the 100 at district. Morris also got first in the 200 and 4x100. Photo by Alan Anderson-Priddy.

Simese twins? No, but they are very good friends. Stacey Christensen and Janine Lewis were the senior throwers. They did shot put, discus, and occasionly the javelin. Christensen and Lewis are leaving track but they won't be forgotten. Photos by Alan Anderson-Priddy

How high can you fly? Christa Svennson soars over the bar at districts to get first place and a personal best of 5'2". Her victory took her to state, her senior year. Photo by Gene Gilbertson.

Motherly love. Alicia Doyle carries her baby, Alexis after the districts track meet. Alica had a lot to overcome after having her baby at the begining of February and having track starting at the end of Febuary. Photo by Shellie Dennis.

What's this mean? When Sarah Arndt was told that they had won the state championship she then replied by asking what it meant. The 4x100 won the race with a time of 49.98. The team consisted of Sarah Arnt, Kelli Truax, Michelle Hawken,and their anchor, Rachael Morris. Photo by Gene Gilbertson.

"A lot of people that were out for Football wanted to have that [winning] feeling again, and a lot of people who weren't, wanted to share the feeling of being the best. I think that was a goal we had set, and we tried to reach that goal," commented Jake Brown.

It is safe to say the team was practically unstoppable. Ten people represented Seaside at the State meet, competing in nine events. This was the most this school has ever sent.

"We had many quality athletes, and record setting kids," Coach Gene Gilbertson explains. "To me, we were extremely successful, and we are one of the best teams around. We had fun, and beat up on many weaker teams."

The four by one hundred team of Casey Jackson, Jason Bartlett, Scott Reilly, and Jake Brown proved just how unbeatable the boy's team was. They were undefeated in this race, breaking two State records. It is important to understand the effort this team put forth.

It is inevitable there was talent, but talent alone cannot make up an outstanding athlete. It also take hard work and pain to become the best. This was evident throughout the season, and it is the combination of both that made them successful.—Mark Smith

Freak the Funky Beat

Pop quiz; it's 3:06 and the bell has just rung, dismissing you from school. What do you do? It's play time! It's time to forget your teachers and your books and have a little fun. Your possibilities are endless, so what's your pleasure? Many people head for practice of the traditional after school sport, like baseball or track. Others go for things like drama or after school jobs. And of course there are the ones that choose to spend quality time with their closest friends or loved one. That still doesn't cover everybody, so what about them, anyway?

They have found alternative ways to amuse themselves in their free time. They play what we classify 'other sports.' Just what is an 'other sport?' According to official Seabreeze lingo, it is an activity that requires physical effort and skill in competition with yourself at most times, and other people on special occasion. It is something that is usually done whenever free time is available.

Nowadays, more and more people are getting into board sports–skateboarding, surfing, and snowboarding. Senior Christy Chaloux is a prime example. She has skateboarded and snowboarded for three years. On any given sunny day, she can be caught ripping it up on her skate; and uses almost every winter weekend to travel to one of Oregon's ski resorts to touch up her snowboarding skills. Chaloux is one of a few Seaside High students that is making a name for herself with alternative sports. Last March, she placed third overall in the women's division of a snowboarding halfpipe competition at Timberline.

Another favorite here at SHS is horseback riding and competing, just ask Stacey Christensen. Christensen got her first horse as a Christmas present five years ago, and has been riding ever since. She competes as an equestrian, and last year, placed third among Oregon's ten best. "My goal is to be the best, to be successful in breeding, showing, and training Morgan horses, and I know I can do it," states Christensen, and we hope she lives up to her dreams.

These are amazing feats, especially with the absence of teammates or a coaching staff. Also without highly publicized competitions or role models. These other jocks are a rare breed, and hopefully their kind will not fade away over time.—Pat Mochel

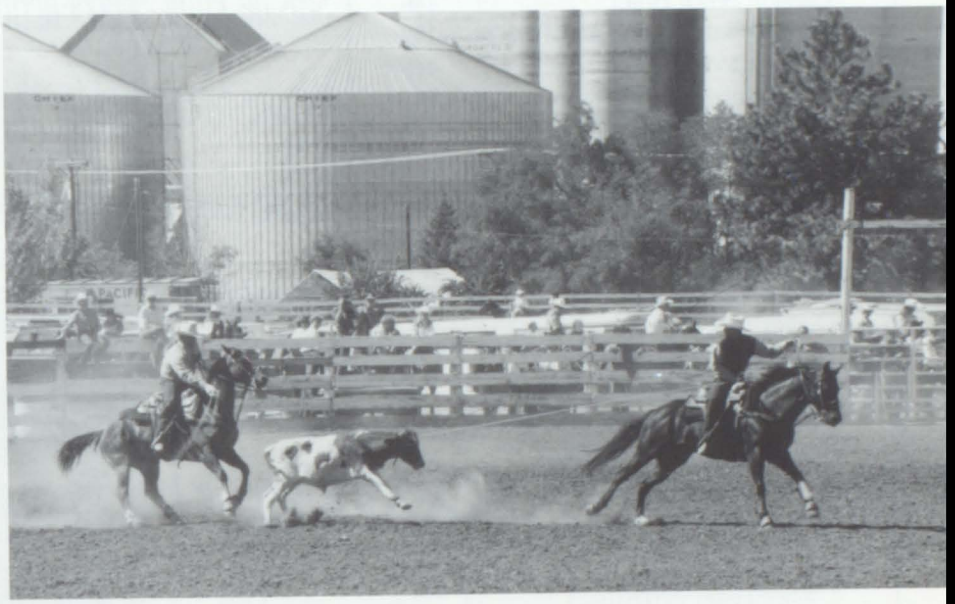
There's no hope for this young buck in the capable hands of Tricia Brown. "We spot-lighted it the night before and then I came back to look in the morning. It was gone, but my brother told me to check back and I did. I was the first of our party to get a deer," said Brown. Hunting is a family tradition for Brown; she went with her uncle and brother for the opening of the season. Photo compliments of Tricia Brown.

All decked out. Stacey Christensen and her Morgan mare, Starlette, at the Columbia Morgan Classic in Redmond Washington. She is riding Saddle Seat, a formal style of riding which places the rider far back on the horse and leads to particularly high and elegant equine action. Jay Goss photo compliments of Stacey Christensen.

Hold on as I take you for a 360º spin through the world of showing off with a couple of boards, a motorcycle, a firearm, and two horseback riders. No, this isn't the Special Olympics, but even worse...

That powder fresh feeling. Christy Chaloux catches air at Timberline Ski Resort last spring. Notice the recently groomed snow and the fly duds. This photo and the one below supplied by Christy Chaloux.

"It's important to be cool," says Junior Joel Smith, skateboarder at large. Here he is seen at the Cannon Beach bowls, a frequented spot by skateboarders with vehicles or the willingness to hitchhike.



Help! I'm choking! That's Senior Joe Painter, our #1 ranked team calf roper in all of Oregon. This is from the August HS rodeo last summer, where Joe and his horse, Decker, took first. Photo compliments of Joe Painter.

CONGRATULATIONS & BEST WISHES TO THE

CLASS OF '95

TOM, KATHY & KRISTI GRIMM

Brandi,
You'll always be my baby!!
I always thought
When you were grown,
I wouldn't mind a whit,
But I kinda miss you needing me
(A teeny-tiny bit!).
I'm just a silly mother,
But I'm learning day by day
You'll have to tell me when I act
Too "motherly" . . . ok?
So please be patient with me
When I fuss or overdo—
I'm just a silly mother
Who's still silly over you!!
Love you lots. Mom

You've come a long way Baby!

Pack it in for the summer! On the last day of school Mike Stuart and Don Goodman collect textbooks and trash accumulated during the year in lockers. Photo by Michelle Gribble.

we need to thank...

Our Advisor, Jan Priddy and Editors Kris Powell, Michelle Gribble, and Tammy Tagg; Gene Gilbertson for his patience with our use of the copy machine; Sandy Bergerson for keeping our accounts; Marion Odegard for printing labels for our mailings; Suzanne Smith for taking messages and printing off class list; the staff of The LARUS; ourselves (especially Mandy Grant and Jenny Custer, who came on board late in the year) for being there for us; Aggie for keeping our room bearable; our administration for supporting "authentic" experiences! We thank our advertisers for balancing our budget, our parents for waiting up for us and lending us cars, money, a shoulder. And thank you, our readers, too.

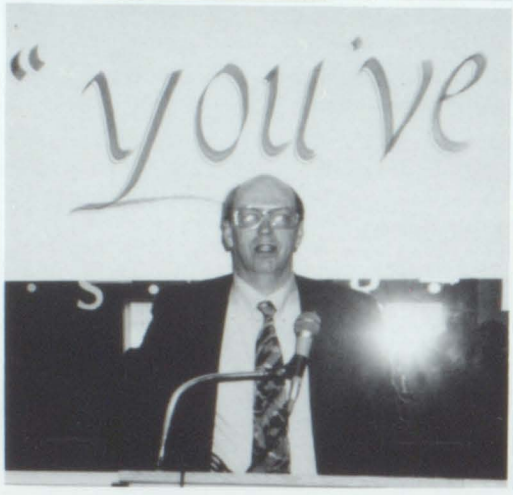
we need to remember...

Those who are not shown in this book. Miracle Clark... and others we lost along the way. Everyone's experience at SHS leads them on a slightly different path, even when they seem to all be going the same direction. It's hard to remember that sometimes.

and we need to say goodbye...

Four staff members of SHS retired at the end of the year: Jerry Westerholm (who had been continuing part time as Athletic Director for the school year after his retirement from teaching the year before), Jim Trofitter (Math Department Chair and thirty-year veteran of SHS), Larry Elliot (leaving both Math and Head Boys Basketball Coach), and Mike Corrigan (who left us with a song). Besides that Warren Whipple retired in December, Bob Gilbert went to Cannon Beach, Mike Stuart left at the end of the year to work at the Area Center and Bev Crouter to join the staff at Broadway. Others came, left, and returned. Goodbye, goodbye...

Out the door and onto the road. Carol Knutson has a list to cover on the last day for teachers before summer.



Larry Elliott—

"If I had not played sports, I would probably not have gotten into to teaching… We have a lot of people stay here because it's a pretty good place to work. That says something for the district… Nothing makes me feel better than when kids catch on to something. Whether it's in basketball or math, it doesn't make any difference… I put everything into teaching and coaching, but after 30 years, it gets tiring… I'm not going to sit at home and twiddle my thumbs."

Jerry Westerholm—

"It's human nature that when you get positive strokes in one area, you kind of hang around… They kick the ball off at 7:30, and you can't say 'Hey we're not ready. We didn't study. Can we play this game Monday?' They're going to play whether you're ready or not… That's why I say 'leave it to the lions.' I know what kind of energy it will take to teach in the future, but there are people with that kind of energy… There are four people retiring, but there will be superior people filling those places. We won't be satisfied with anything else."

Mike Corrigan—

"You hit the finish line. You run out of gas is what it amounts to… You're just hoping you might have made a difference with a few kids… One [problem] would be growing apathy of some of the students, and the apathy of the tax payers who don't seem to want to pay for anything more… I'm not going to retire to 'the home.' I'm going to work; I'm just going to change careers… Thirty-four years is enough. It's time for some new blood."

Jim Trofitter—

"Math isn't like a lot of things. You have to learn it. Somebody can tell you the definition of a word, but with math you have to apply it… It's getting to be too much of 'get the answer,' and don't worry about how you got it… Teachers are only a small part of it. There are adults who aren't in the classroom, and there are all [these] kids. If the kids are here to play and teachers are here to teach, they're not going to get anything done… I know from past experience that you never see the people who retired five years ago, because you just don't have the same things in common anymore."

Photos were taken at the SEA banquet where each retiree was introduced and given an award, a fishing pole, and a fishing trip in Mark Mizzel's boat. Quotations above are from The LARUS Vol 9 Issue 8, Seaside High School's student newspaper. Thank you.

1995 SEABREEZE

The 1995 SEABREEZE was printed with Craftline Embossed cover in Forest green, "Crinkle" grain, with black ink, and silver foil. Base ink was black on glossy 80 # 191 stock with ten and one half signatures. All copy (except in ads section) is Times, Helvetica or Palatino. Most senior class portraits and underclass portraits were done by professional photographers in the area. Black and white photography was shot and processed by the SEABREEZE staff (in our new darkroom). Color photos taken by the SEABREEZE staff were developed by Costco. All prints were made in house. Photos were taken using student owned equipment and SHS Minoltas and Fuji 1000 zoom cameras. Individual staff member's by-lines can be found on the pages they completed. Copy was written on Macintosh computers using Microsoft Word 5.0 for word processing, Aldus PageMaker 4.2 for layout, and an Apple LaserWriter II for printing. Our work was made possible by the support of friends, family and many pizzas. The Seabreeze is entirely student generated and submitted to the plant camera ready.
